modified from time to time, and of a copy of the rules that were in force in the above said two Municipalities just before the promulgation of the Impose Municipal Regulation, VII of 1906. This is put up. Proviso (b) to Sec 2 of the above said Regulation says that the rules in question, framed under the Municipal Regulations of 1871, shall, so far as may be, be deemed to have been framed under that Regulation. But these require election rules require to be so revised as to be applicable not only to the two civil Municipal Councils but also to others.

2. Section 11 of the Regulation of 1906 empowers Govt to determine the number of Councillors, to fix the proportion of elected and nominated Councillors and to make rules for regulating elections in each Municipality. The rules framed under this section may be either general for for all the Municipalities or special for each. The draft Election Rules submitted herewith are general for the all the Municipalities and they are based on the Bombay District Municipal Election Rules of 1891. These rules are intended to apply to all Municipalities whether existing or to be hereafter Constituted. These rules do not determine the constitution of Municipal Councils for which separate rules have been submitted.

The draft rules are discussed hereunder.

Rule 2(1)

(i) Under the Municipal Regulation of 1871 Deputy Commissioners could not interfere in Municipal administration - The present Regulation, Ch XII clearly defines that powers shall be exercised by Deputy Commissioners in Municipalities. The rule provides for the control of elections by Deputy Commissioners

It has been deemed best not to empower the Deputy Commissioner to delegate these powers to Assistant Commissioner in the case of the large Municipalities of Bangalore and Mysore

Rule 4.

(ii) In Bombay Dist Municipalities women enjoy the privilege of voting at Municipal elections. In the draft this provision is retained (inserted in red ink). It is however submitted for consideration whether our women in general are sufficiently advanced as to judiciously exercise the right to vote. ~~At the same time it has also to be considered whether women~~ Neither in the Madras Muly nor in the C & M Station Municipality women are given the franchise

Rule 4. I agree in thinking that women may be left out for voting -

Rule 5 - I agree to the principle "one man one vote" - The alternative noted in red ink may be omitted - Consequential alterations elsewhere will of course follow -

Rules 6 & 7 Different qualifications for voters & for Candidates can be prescribed under Sec 11(2)(c) of the Regulations -

Rule 23 It seems advisable to keep the existing provision that a candidate shall not be considered as elected unless he has secured the votes of at least one-eighth of the total number of persons entitled to vote - Where the recorded votes are less than one-eighth, it would be advisable for Govt to select an

(2) It does not seem necessary to declare illiteracy as a disqualification for a candidate because it is extremely unlikely that an illiterate person will offer himself or be elected.

Rule 15 - The existing rule and practice provide for voting by ballot - I see no good reason for altering this, as is proposed in Rule 15 -

The Rules may be published in draft and remarks & suggestions invited.

Rule 4. Women with the necessary qualifications may I think be allowed to vote. I can see no objection to this. It is time that man begins to recognize the time may not be far in the administration of civic affairs It is bare justice to give her equal voting rights with man as in Bombay

Rule 23 - The proposed rule is a wholesome one and may stand. I cannot follow the Secretary's reasoning
I think $\frac{1}{8}$ of the total No.
of voters in each Division is meant.

Illiteracy may be a bar to one's employt as a clerk.
The great Akbar &

Some of our prominent citizens can scarcely be called literate.

In the rest I agree with

Submitted to His Highness

I submit the accompanying draft of the Municipal Election Rules proposed to be issued under the new Municipal Regulation. Hitherto the elective principle has been introduced only in the Bangalore and Mysore City Municipalities, but now that other municipalities at District headquarters and elsewhere are being brought under the new Regulation, the elective principle has to be introduced in those municipalities also.

In the draft rules only the following points call for any remarks -

(1) The First Councillor is of opinion that women need not be given the privilege of voting, but the Second Councillor is of opinion that the privilege should be given. I am of opinion that as in Bombay women who are otherwise qualified may be allowed to vote. If this is accepted the words "of the male sex" in the preamble to Rule 4 will have to be omitted and Rule 17(1) as regards voting by proxy will have to be retained

(2) As regards Rule 4(vii), which refers to the qualifications for voters in a municipality newly to be formed, the First Councillor thinks that no such special provision for new municipalities is necessary I think however that the provision is necessary

(3) Rule 5 I agree with the Councillors in thinking that one man should have only one vote.

(4) Rule 15. I agree with the Councillors in thinking that the existing rule and practice which provide for voting by ballot, need not be altered as is proposed to be done in this rule.

(5) Rule 23(iii). The existing rule that a candidate shall not be considered as elected unless he has secured the votes of at least one-eighth of the total number of persons entitled to vote in the Division may be retained.

(6) Illiteracy should be regarded as a disqualification in a candidate for election.

The rules with the modifications indicated above and with such consequential changes as may be necessary may be approved.

It has been suggested that the rules may be published in draft and remarks and suggestions invited, but I learn that the term of the present elected members of the Mysore City Municipality is very nearly over and it is desirable to issue the rules at once Any changes that may hereafter be found necessary may be subsequently introduced

The rules are approved, with the exception of the proposed grant of votes to women. Whatever may be the case in a city like Bombay, I do not think that the time is ripe for such a measure in Mysore.

It is not clear to me why special rules are required for new Municipalities but the issue of the rules need not be delayed on that account and the matter may be explained later. KRW 16/1/09

Municipal Councillors have to be appointed for the first time, some of whom are to be elected, neither clause VI of Rule 4 nor (1)(c) of Rule 6 can apply, for municipal taxes will not have been imposed and much less levied in that area provision is therefore made in clause (vii) of Rule 4 and (i)(f) of Rule 6 for including among voters and candidates persons possessing certain property qualifications or paid land revenue or mohatarfa of a certain amount

In the same way, certain rules which are applicable after a municipal council has once come into existence do not apply when an area is newly constituted a municipality and the municipal Council consisting partly of elected Councillors has to be appointed for the first time Special rules are therefore made wherever necessary.

With reference to the enquiry contained in His Highness' order dated 16th January 1909 in regard to the draft Municipal Election Rules, I submit herewith the notes of the Assistant and Under Secretaries, dated 27th January 1909, explaining the necessity for making special rules for new municipalities. As regards the provision made in Rule 4 in regard to new municipalities, it will be noted that, as Rule 4(vi), which refers to a property qualification based on the amount of municipal taxes paid, will not apply to such municipalities, it is necessary that some other property qualification should be prescribed and this has been done in Rule 4(vii).
